you were never the kind to be silent and wait for somebody's opinion to tell you what you should think to tell you what you should feel you were never easily persuadable and now things are different you say I'm tired of fighting you say I'm quiet and I do as I'm told but why would you do that? someone might believe you and become as easily mistreatable

so I won't let you stop you may be the last chance we've got and I was never the kind to be patient and wait for afternoon dismissal to say meet me by the reservoir I will take you away from here and show you all my secrets and now I'm scared of everything and I ever go anywhere except for everywhere I'm excepted and I know why I do that I do it cuz I have to but I'll tell you another secret that I don't want to stop let's pretend we've all that we've got yeah and I hope you know it's true that just cuz you want me too I won't give up on you

cuz I know things are different we're tired of fighting we wanna be quiet and do as we are told

but we cannot do that someone might believe us

I know things are different
but we cannot do that
and become so easily mistreatable

if you don't let me stop yeah I won't let you stop please don't let me stop this may be the last chance we've got
