From the moment that you got it, you've already got one foot out the door
But if you ever forget what it is that you came in here for Just look in your pocket, I'm sure that you wrote it down Baby, I'm so tired of trying to change your mind back around

If I tell you that I'm sorry, would you please come back to the car Because you're shoes are a mess and I can't tell your dress from your arms
You can walk it, if you want to, but we both know it's way too far
And even if you are, I can't stay mad anymore

'Cause this might be my last night here
Don't leave me like you found me
And I won't leave you standing there

'Cause I see, what you see
And I want you, just the same

Tell me, was it worth it, if it never gets no better than this?
And all those traps that you laid, just expect to get paid and then quit
And you feel just like a candle who can't tell whose hand that he's in Oh, baby I hope, for your sake, I that you know that it is

'Cause this might be my last night here
Don't leave me like you found me
And I won't leave you standing there
'Cause I see what you see
And I want you, just the same

Ohhh, this might be my last night here
Don't leave me like you found me
And I won't leave you standing there
'Cause I see, what you see

And I want you, just the same
