The sun is coming up,
As our plans are going down,
And I still don't care what happens,
As long as your around.
Even when the day is over,
The night will still be young,
Could you as for something better,
It's time to have some fun.

Hold on, it's almost here.
I know, sometimes I'm weird,
And there's no better way,
No better way to end the day.

Our hearts are racing,
Were in the spotlight.
Just close your eyes,
And remember this night.
If everything held true about the things I said to you,
Then would we be here tonight cuz' we could say that this is right.
(Repeat)

There's songs stuck in my head,
That make think of you,
Cuz' if you weren't here right now,
I don't know what I'd do.
And one thing that is for sure,
Is we will laugh the night away,
And don't tell me how your feeling,
Cuz' I know I feel the same.

Hold on, it's almost here.
I know, sometimes I'm weird,
And there's no better way,
No better way to end the day.

Our hearts are racing,
Were in the spotlight.
Just close your eyes,
And remember this night.

If everything held true about the things I said to you,
Then would we be here tonight cuz' we could say that this is right.
