Up in the morning and it's down at the beach
You pick a good spot and you take your seat
But it's your first day so you gotta beware
The sun's beating down so you gotta take care.
It doesn't take too long when you find out you've done it wrong
You've gone a bit further than you wanted to Here's what you gotta do

You've got to get a little, get a little every day
You get a sunburn right away
Your body's brown as a berry but you can't lie down
Better let yourself cool down

Sun's beating down, there's a pain in your head
You spread a little lotion and you slide out of bed
But the call of the sun's got you under its spell
You gotta take a chance though you're feeling like hell
It doesn't take too long when you find out you've
done it wrong
You've gone a bit further than you wanted to
Here's what you gotta do

You get a sunburn (sunburn) right away
Your body's brown as a berry but you can't lie
down
Better let yourself cool down
