I got no friends, only people that know
They seem so nice to me, but I don't even know Looking out the window, at the place I wanna go I sure wish I could stay here, my head it will explode

I ain't fit to live here, among people of my time
No I ain't fit for nothin', just wanna leave the world
behind
If I don't get my head straight, I'll never chase them
here again
But if you try to push me, I wont make it here alive

Outside the rain is pouring, and time is passing by I'm thinkin' about the passed weeks, but my memory is blank
So the days in my life, don't know where to go
But why should I bother, to see my point of life is gone

I ain't fit to live here, among people of my time
No I ain't fit for nothin', just wanna leave the world
behind
If I don't get my head straight, I'll never chase them
here again
But if you try to push me, I wont make it here alive

People ask me what is wrong, I don't see what's right Can't get my thoughts together, I'm still asking why Random days keep passing by, Don't make sense to me I'll stop myself from thinkin', 'cause I know where it will lead
I know where it will lead, I know where it will lead Cause know where it will lead, all right

All of my ghosts, didn't think of anything Like the dog who caught the rabbit, Don't wanna change no more

I ain't fit to live here, among people of my time
No I ain't fit for nothin', just wanna leave the world
behind

If I don't get my head straight, I'll never chase them
here again
But if you try to push me, I wont make it here alive
