I remember when it hit me,
Couldn't see a way back.
The power and the fury
The pleasure and the thrill.

What did you expect when it all began
What did you think your music was to bring?

Feel like I lived a thousand years and not a life at all,
The time I spent waiting is a lifetime in itself.

Guess how many fools now call you their friend,
I hope that you know that you are one of them.

Why did you think that you can have it all for free?
Could you see the hours that you would spend?
Did you think It would be an easy ride?
Can't you see that you're the fool in the end,
You're the fool in the end.

It's been there all my life,
It aint something I chose.
I know that I was born with the restless blues.
Sometimes you should leave but you cant let me be,
It's been a lot on my life, it ain't something I chose,
I got the restless blues, I got the restless blues.

Why did you think that you can have it all for free?
Could you see the hours that you would spend?
Did you think It would be an easy ride?
Can't you see that you're the fool in the end,
You're the fool in the end.
Why did you think that you can have it all for free?
Could you see the hours that you would spend?
Did you think It would be an easy ride?
Can't you see that you're the fool in the end,
You're the fool in the end.

You're the fool in the end!€!
