"Blink"

I'm sick of feeling like the faceless one
But that's all changed because
I've found someone
If I had blinked
I probably never would have met her
And now I wouldn't change a thing
She seems to sparkle with her every move
My mind goes crazy when she's in the room
I try not tho think of how things were
When you weren't here
My friends all say I've lost my head
And it's not fair
Nothing matters whne I call
And you're not there
I've fallen totally in love and I don't care
I used to think that I could hold my own
I'd rather die than have to live alone
