I'm floating in a constant heaven

I'm floating in a constant heaven

I can't believe that you came here today

And took me away

And you took me away

I can't believe that you came her today

And took me away

Took me away

And if you focus very hard

The train will come for you at last

And if you're stuck out in the yard

I can't believe that you came here today

And took me away

And you took me away

Too much condition and not enough game

It's driving me sane

Driving me sane

I'm floating in a constant heaven
