try to remember, the echoes and embers are heavy on my mind the pictures are broken, the front door is open the scars are left behind tables turn you once they burning leaving me undone
a vision shaking till i break i swear to god more words can you just hear me just really hear me

i've been drowning in the sea of tryna to pleasing you it's all i ever been, it's all i ever know i try to be me, but i'm turning into you it's hurting, the drugs aren't working the wall come crushing down a never attraction, my insurrection it's crawling back somehow tables turn these words they burn i never should have come

just really hear me

turning into you
i'm not how i used to be,
i'm changing cause of you screaming just to breathe it's all i can do
turning into you

any more, find a way, hey, hey
it's all that i can see, it's all that i can do

turning into you
i'm not how i used to be,
