(Verse)

We wanted to test the limits of our alibi,
And I always assumed that it all will be a pack of lies.
Sometimes truth has a way of working its way inside
I walked up to the stand on everybody side

(Chorus)

And here we go, another plea,
Grand us both some linear sea
For another day, can't we just say
It will go away.

(Verse)

Take another walk, try to make it stop to make it clean.
Beat all the odds but we ended up somewhere in between
What we want, what we got and what we need.
Cut it too close to the bone and now we're feeling so lean

(Chorus)

And here we go, another scheme,
To live inside each other's dreams
It takes a first but it starts to blur
All the colors bleed into something mean.

(Bridge)

Oh, that's not what I meant to say,
Tomorrow will be another day.
I'm so tired, I just need some sleep,
Some sweet relief.
