Such a lie, thinking that I was all fine, that I was over you now but I'm far from right, no

It's a crime how you left my heart all dry, but left me enough so I'd survive
No wonder why... no...

I still breathe you like you're all around I still feel you and I can't break the sound of your words, of your touch
Every memory got stuck like an echo
All the emotions are rushing back in into motion, they're falling like rain
and your kiss got me struck,
every memory got stuck like an echo,
like an echo
of you

Like a beat always stuck on repeat and gets right through me Just let me be... 'cause...

I still breathe you like you're all around
I still feel you and I can't break the sound of your
words, of your touch
Every memory got stuck like an echo
All the emotions are rushing back in into motion,
they're falling like rain
and your kiss got me struck,
every memory got stuck like an echo,
like an echo

But I don't mind living with the pain
It's the only thing that keeps me awake Makes me think you're not too far away Ohhhhh...

I still breathe you like you're all around
I still feel you and I can't break the sound of your
words, of your touch

All the emotions are rushing back in into motion,
they're falling like rain
and your kiss got me struck,
every memory got stuck like an echo,
like an echo
I still breathe you like you're all around
I still feel you and I can't break the sound of your
words, of your touch
Every memory got stuck like an echo
All the emotions are rushing back in into motion,
they're falling like rain
and your kiss got me struck,
every memory got stuck like an echo,
like an echo
of you.
