Follow me, come on, you know me, yeah, into the blue
Follow me, come on, you know me, yeah, into the blue

I'll wake you up when the morning comes
A decent cup of a coffee with milk, right?
I'll dress you up and tie up your shoes
I'll wish you luck, it's the least I can do

Crawling on, never looking back
Won't lose your smile though your life is a mess-up
The pressure's like a knife in your back
What can you do when your world is turning into black?

Grab my hand, follow me though I'm sinking
Into the sea where the fish don't ever sleep
I solved my case by the way I've been thinking
My mind is resting in the blue, my mind is resting in the sea

Follow me, come on, you know me, yeah, into the blue

I'll pick you up and I'll get you down
And to the town if you have any spare time
Relax today, nothing's ruling you
I'll take you out, it's the least I can do

Once again oh, you turn your back
I wonder why you make yourself to do that
No one can bear living in a trap
What can you do when your world is turning into black?

Grab my hand, follow me though I'm sinking
Into the sea where the fish don't ever sleep
I solved my case by the way I've been thinking
My mind is resting in the blue, my mind is resting in the sea

Have I ever made myself clear?
Well, I'll make myself clear now

Grab my hand, follow me though I'm sinking
Into the sea where the fish don't ever sleep

I solved my case by the way I've been thinking
My mind is resting in the blue, my mind is resting in the

Grab my hand, follow me though I'm sinking
Into the sea where the fish don't ever sleep
I solved my case by the way I've been thinking
My mind is resting in the blue, my mind is resting in the sea
