Still I try so hard to find a reason,
reasons that I never seem to find,
certain as your changing of each reason,
still I'm feeling lost and oh so blind.
Well I feel that you'll find its fine if you are leaving,
leaving everything you've known behind,
certain as the changing of each season,
still I'm feeling lost and oh so blind.

Still I try so hard to find a reason,
Reasons that I never seem to find
As certain as your changing for each reason Still I feeling so lost and oh so blind.
Well I feel that you find its fine if you are leaving No matter how far you feel out of phase
The answer to your question will I love you Quit simply is only always
Well I feel that you'll find its fine if you are leaving,
leaving everything you've known behind,
certain as the changing of each season,
still I'm feeling lost and oh so blind.

All the saddest things I've seen Don't come close to what has been All the great things left to be Things that keep me in between
