I can't begin to tell you
What your leavin's done to me
I'm up all night and sleep all day
And now everyone can see
That my yesterdays meant nothing
That was long ago
And if you think that nothing's changed
Well there's something you should know

San Antonio baby, won't you please come back to me
The very thought of losing you has brought me to my knees
I feel like a king, but no longer royalty
San Antonio baby, won't you please come back to me

And we could start all over
You would love me once again
I'd hold you while I told you
I'd be faithful to the end
No more empty promises
The Devil surely knows

And he would have his way with me
If you leave me all alone

The very thought of losing you has brought me to my
knees
I feel like a king, but no longer royalty
San Antonio baby, won't you please come back to me

The very thought of losing you has brought me to my
knees
I feel like a king, but no longer royalty
San Antonio baby, won't you please come back to me

I feel like a king, but no longer royalty
San Antonio baby, won't you please come back to me
San Antonio baby, won't you please come back to me
