Crash!

Now we tell you the story about two little girls, wondering what life really means Meeting some friends in the summer of one year, they soon find out they were unreal First they were a team but this soon became a dream, shadows of strangers coming near The both girls recognized, they will soon stand there alone, the reason for this was unknown

Crying, hoping dying, Crash is coming over me Trying, keep on fighting, together we will find a way to

Friends come and go and this is what we learned, but nevertheless we go on Standing side by side, holding hands and keeping rights that the others want to take away During that time a lot of things changed, boys became part of our life Feelings of love in which we never felt free running down like a river to the sea

Crying, hoping dying, Crash is coming over me Trying, keep on fighting, together we will find a way to

We weren't such as strong as we thought we would be,
we couldn't dare it anymore
A shining band of angels is standing in the line, bringing us peace right in time

Trying, keep on fighting, together we will find a way to
