English translation

Gazing at your face as the red setting sun shines upon it,
I quietly make my wish: O sky, please stop the time at this moment.
As you, carrying woes on your back, advance forward intently, if I could I'd chase after you on this treacherous road. While the clouds drift farther and farther away.

even if this is only a transient moment,
I want to stay by your side.
Because the sun shining on my heart is perpetual, please believe in our bond.
I felt if I started asking questions I'd end up in overflowing tears, so I tried to stay quiet in night's darkness while gazing at the sky. No matter what kind of fate I encounter,
I won't regret it, as long as in my dream I can be embraced in your bosom, and accompany you around. While the disappearing sky becomes paler and paler, even if the seasons have repainted the entire scenery,
I will be right here.
I will always hold the love blooming from my heart in my embrace,
even if my life perishes. In the red sunset sky, the birds fly over the mountains to return home.
Ah, I, too, no matter when, shall always be your place of return.
..While the clouds drift farther and farther away.
even if this is only a transient moment,
I want to stay by your side.
The sun shining on my heart is perpetual.
While the disappearing sky becomes paler and paler,
even if the seasons have repainted the entire scenery,
I will be right here.
I will always hold the love blooming from my heart in
my embrace,
until the end of eternity.
