They're playing in Central Park
Check out him, he's shouting at the gate
"Billy didn't tell you everything or did he mention the magic day?"

Well I figured it out from a fig tree It's that they chose to be together in silk Now you been bad for 50 years and now it looks like that he's taking off his belt

Waiting for October
I cross my fingers
cross my heart
and hope to die

Waiting for October
I'm in the book
and I'll be learning how to fly

He's coming down but he's not alone He's gonna bring an army of saints and he's taking all his back home and then destroying what remains

Waiting for October
I cross my fingers
cross my heart
and hope to die

Waiting for October
I'm in the book
and I'll be learning
to be wings
to be wings

Hoping that the end will start it all again

And that's when numeral history will die
I said that's what's so right about the day Cause it all ends in 1999

and commences on the 28th, the 28th, the 28th

Waiting for October
I cross my fingers
cross my heart
and hope to die

Waiting for October
I'm in the book
and I'll be learning how to fly

Waiting for October
I cross my fingers
cross my heart
and hope to die

Waiting for October
I'm in the book
