So, you've checked into rehab to allow your nose and vein some rest 'cause of late you've been to netherworld quite a frequent guest

You let those nightmares torment you until your face turned pale you let smoke soak through your skin until it's gotten stale

Chorus:
You're a wreck,
you're a wreck
you're a complete and messed up wreck you're fucking up your life but you just don't give a heck every now and then you've been to hell but you kept coming back

Your insignificant self you're trying so hard to erase will, even when you left your body, roam about in space

You won't be free by any means from problems that are plaguing you death is not a pill or drug it won't dull your pain, it just won't do

Chorus: You're a wreck...

Stop proclaiming your death warrant in every single line you can't be serious about leaving now boy, you're in your prime

I know, you fuck 'em all and you fuck everything but you've got talent and you've got brains it's a shame you want to throw it all away only 'cause you yourself have just fucked up your day

Chorus

So, get yourself bloody together get yourself bloody together yourself bloody together bloody together, together, together, together (“Get yourself bloody together” sung in reverse)
