Well listen dear, I think it's clear
We need to sit and talk
It seems you've got this notion
I've been having second thoughts
Well I must confess in a way I guess
That silly notion's true
Cause every second you're not here with me
I think of you

Every second, every minute
Every hour of every day
Every second there's a thought of you that comes my way
So if you ask if I've had second thoughts
I guess I'd have to say
Every second, every minute
Every hour of every day

Now I propose we drink a toast
And turn the lights down low
Put our favorite music on
And hold each other close
Don't worry dear you'll always be here
In my heart to stay
Every second, every minute
Every hour of every day

Every second, every minute
Every hour of every day
Every second there's a thought of you that comes my
way
So if you ask if I've had second thoughts
I guess I'd have to say
Every second, every minute
Every hour of every day

Every second, every minute
I love you more and more each day
