Open my eyes let me see the flames
That burn so dangerously near
Don't let me hide, my pain
Let me give it all to you

One chance one life
One dance one fight
Never using what youre given
Giving up on things worth dying for

I never wanted it to end like this
I never meant to tear you down
I never meant to do you wrong here
But it's all gone now, too late to turn around

You say everything to me
But I wont listen
Still I lie in my misery
I just wont listen

One chance one life
One dance one fight
Never using what youre given
Giving up on things worth dying for

I never wanted it to end like this
I never meant to tear you down
I never meant to do you wrong here
But it's all gone now, too late to turn around
