I drove through the park and I searched all the bars
Where I made out with love too many times.
It was always so easy to find an unhappy woman
Til I started looking for mine.

Some beer-drinking devil is holding my angel
And I know what he'll do if he's my kind.
It was always so easy to find an unhappy woman
Til I started looking for mine.

The note on the door said I warned you before
What I'd do if you cheated one more time.
It was always so easy to find an unhappy woman
Til I started looking for mine.

Some beer-drinking devil is holding my angel
And I know what he'll do if he's my kind.
It was always so easy to find an unhappy woman
Til I started looking for mine.

Sait it was always so easy to find an unhappy woman
Til I started looking for mine.
