"Three More Days"

Three more days and then I'll see
The people who depend on me.
Three more days and I'm home.

Not long now until I step inside
The place where we all reside.
Three more days and I'm home.

And life's rolled on and on
The whole time I've been gone.

I walk around today feeling right.
I dreamt about each one of them last night.
Three more days and I'm home.

And life's rolled on and on
The whole time I've been gone.

When I close my eyes I can see
The faces of my family.
Three more days and I'm home.

Everything that I hold dear
Lies five thousand miles from here.
Three more days and I'm home.
Three more days and I'm home.

Home.
