Shut down everything inside that makes it work. All the wires to it's soul,
And all the lights that make it glow. Kill the system. I don't want it Anymore. Drag me through the fire. It helps keep me awake. The bulbs are Blinking, the statics piercing. But it's hard to look away.
Let's hit the Ground. God damn this place. It's taken everything.
Shut it down. Send your Best to guard my soul. They will never sleep. They will never leave me Alone. Somebody throw the switch, shut it down.
