(Ray Price)

Each time I see your picture
A flood of memories starts
And the blue tide that's rising around my feet
Is breaking inside my heart.
And though I fight with all of my might
The burning desire remain
For each time I see your picture
I lose my heart again.

--- Instrumental ---

I hide the frame to shut out the pain
Then wake up searching the dark
Oh, I just can't rest until I caress
The cold glass that's holding my heart.
I haven't yet learned how to forget
And the burning desire remain
For each time I see your picture
I lose my heart again...
