(Wayne P. Walker - Irene Stanton)

You know that you're doing lots of things that ain't right
You're out with a different party almost every night
And you're making me look like a crazy fool
So why do I have these doubts about leaving you?
Because my heart tells me stay but my pride tells me
go

But how can I leave you when I love you so
Which way should I turn I'd sure like to know
My heart tells me stay but my pride tells me go.

--- Instrumental ---

I'd be so much better off to drive you from my mind
And make you the mem'ries that I'd like to leave behind
I know that these heartaches are what you will put me through

So why do I have these doubts about leaving you.
Because my heart tells me stay but my pride tells me

But how can I leave you when I love you so
Which way should I turn I'd sure like to know
My heart tells me stay but my pride tells me go...
