Walk me to the door
And hold me close just one more time
Kiss me just once more
The way you did when you were mine

The longest walk I'll ever take
Will be across the floor
That's why I'm asking one last favor
Walk me to the door

I love another, won't you let me be
These are the words that you said to me
How can I go through life
Without you like it was before

When I can even make it to the door
Walk me to the door

I promise I won't try to make commands
I know I don't deserve you back again
My trembling lips are begging now
They never did before

Just one more favor walk me to the door
Walk me to the door
