

The Randy Rogers Band

"Break Even"

Visit "Break Even" on MotoLyrics.com

Well this is pretty low, but it ain't the bottom
Still a long way to go, could I get you to follow Well it all comes down to this, just give me a reason
'Cause I know I'll never win, we could break even

'Cause I really don't care, really don't care whose side
I'm on
'Cause there is always room at the bottom once the
line's been drawn
And I know I'll never win, just let me go on believin'
That there is still a chance that we could break even

Well this is gonna hurt, I can ease your pain
'Cause once you felt the fire, you don't mind the rain
If you go down, down, down, out in the deep end Could you pull me up just enough to break even

'Cause I really don't care, I really don't care whose side
I'm on
'Cause there is always room at the bottom once the
line's been drawn
And I know I'll never win, just let me go on believin'
That there is still a chance that we could break even There's still a chance, there's still a chance you could save me
There's still a chance, I'll just bring you down

'Cause I really don't care, really don't care whose side
I'm on
'Cause there is always room at the bottom once the
line's been drawn
And I know I'll never win, just let me go on believin'
That there is still a chance that we could break even There's still a chance that we could break even

Yeah!

I just wanna break even... Oh!

