I took a trip up Gillis Mountain
One sunny summer day
There were ruts in the road and the four-wheel drive
Spun its wheels in the rocks and the clay
Yes, it spun it's wheel in the rocks and the clay

On our way up Gillis Mountain
On that sunny, summer day
There were spruce trees growing on the fields
Where forefathers once made hay
Where our forefathers once made hay

And oh, oh, oh
Gillis Mountain
And oh, oh, oh
Where forefathers once made hay

The Gillises lived on the mountain
For about a hundred years
Where we picked berries, they cleared land
Spent their blood and sweat and tears,
They spent their blood and sweat and tears

And oh, oh, oh
Gillis Mountain
And oh, oh, oh
Spent their blood and sweat and tears

When we arrived on Gillis Mountain
You could see for miles in the light
The white caps on the sea of blue
Sparkled like diamonds in the night
They sparkled like diamonds in the night

And oh, oh, oh
Gillis Mountain
And oh, oh, oh
Sparkled like diamonds in the night

And oh, oh, oh

Gillis Mountain
And oh, oh, oh
Sparkled like diamonds in the night

La la la la la la la la la la
La la la la la la la la la la
La la la la la la la la la la
Sparkled like diamonds in the night
