Day after day I wake up with a jump
I grab my shirt, grab my hat and I take my burnt toast
In my mind everything seems fine
It's alright, it's okay but somehow something's missing

Without your love, without your peace
It's the same thang everybody feels it
Day after day, in every way
I wanna take each step with you

I just say the word
And I'm free
Oh, I just say the word
And now nothing's missing

Isn't it weird that we say what we say
And we still do what we wanna do
Somehow I gotta find a way
To break through all these selfish tendencies

Without your love, without your peace
It's still the same ol' thang, yeah, everybody feels it
Day after day, this I pray
That I take each step with you

I just say the word
And I'm free
Oh, I just say the word
And now nothing's missing

I just say the word
And I'm free
Oh, I just say the word
And now nothing's missing

Say the word and I am free
Say the word and nothing's missing
Say the word and I am free
Say the word and nothing's missing

Say the word and I am free
Say the word and nothing's missing

Say the word and I am free
Say the word and nothing's missing

I just say the word
And I'm free
I just say the word
And now nothing's missing

I just say the word
And I'm free
I just say the word
And now nothing's missing

Say the word, nothing's missing
Say the word, I am free
Say the word, nothing's missing
Say the word, I am free

Say the word, nothing's missing
Say the word, I am free
Say the word, nothing's missing
Say the word, I am free

Say the word, nothing's missing
Say the word, I am free
Say the word, nothing's missing
Say the word, I am free
