It doesn't matter whether sun is here or sun is gone

It doesn't matter where my rose is

It doesn't matter whether rain is here or rain is gone

It doesn't matter where my rose is

It doesn't matter where my rose is

So long as it's safe and warm

It doesn't matter where my rose is

So long as it's in, this is my ending heart

It doesn't matter whether if it's spring or if it's fall

It doesn't matter where my rose are

It doesn't matter whether I am glad or I am small

It doesn't matter where rose are

It doesn't matter where my rows are

So long as it's safe and warm

It doesn't matter where my rows are

So long as it's in, this is my ending heart

Oh and it's me that you might sway

Oh and it's me that my precious love will fade

Oh and it's me that you might sway

Something is eating me,

Something is eating me
