Letting things go when all [unidentifiable name] needs is some attention always saying no when all he needs is some affection loosing my mind over the way everything in my life is run taking the blame when I suffer all that was done Just let it go (Don't come for me, Just stay away & let me be) Hiding the fear that our fear is the reason you won holding within my intention was never to run building a plot to avenge my unfortunate fate going against all the things that you fucking hate Just let it go (Don't come for me, Just stay away & let me be)
