it builds up inside
intensifies
contained within never not i anxiety
ready to explode
i shiver failing to hold it back reality
drifting away
from conscience on my back it's payback time
i'm punished for my life
hurt by the stone
suffocate my mind
cast by all i've ever met
why must this happen all at once?
i feel, i feel i wanna
i can't handle it
die, go away
why must this happen all at once?
surrendering inside
peel away my skin
ready to say goodbye
pounding at me all at once feels as if...if i had a gun pushing me
i was told once before i know i'd reach the end of forever deserve the hell i'm in i know i got what's coming to me i feel...i feel i wanna die why must this happen all at once
