I'm up against the wall when you come home
I'm up against the law when you lose home
There's only one thing I need to know
What would you take away if I said no?

Count the hours, need more time
Won't you give another sign?
Call me up I want to know
What would you take away if I said no?
What would you take away if I said no?

When you're caught a riot, caught in a storm
When you're losing your head, when you're out in the zone
Got a promise to keep, going back to the bone
What would you take away if I said no?
What would you take away if I said no?

When you're caught a riot, caught in a storm
When you're losing your head, when you're out in the zone
Got a promise to keep, going back to the bone
What would you take away if I said no?
What would you take away if I said no?
