Full moon is shining on this beach
Wrapped in a blanket, you and me
Oh, when the tide is rising

Just like we pictured it to be
The rest of the world slipped out to sleep
Oh, when the tide is rising

I'm happy laying here beside you
Whisper in my ear to hold you cause its cold
I'm finally staring in these eyes
Let the morning sky's come creep up on the night
We'll be waiting here

Good thing this fairy tail we have
Isn't a castle in the sand
Oh, cause the tide is rising

When we step back across these doons
We'll have another million moons
Oh, well it all keep rising

I'm happy laying here beside you
Whisper in my ear to hold you cause its cold
I'm finally staring in these eyes
Let the morning sky's come creep up on the night
We'll be waiting here
