Go

Six years strong and I'm still here
Take life by the day
I know my path, conscience clear
Or in the ground I lay

Now, for my family you know I'm sorry for
The things you had to see when I lost myself
My father said, "We will fight, won't let you die, son"

My sister found me almost dead
Needle in my arm
I keep that picture in my head
I won't fall again

Now, for my family you know I'm sorry for
The things you had to see when I lost myself
My father said, "We will fight, won't let you die"
My father said, "We will fight, won't let you die"

Break away from all the things in my life
That have held me down
Break away from all the things in my life
That have held me down

I don't hate myself, take away this pain
I don't hate myself, take away this pain
I don't hate myself, take away this pain
I don't hate myself

Won't bring back everything I ever was
Won't bring back everything I ever was
Won't bring back everything I ever was
Won't bring back everything I ever was

My father said, "We will fight, won't let you die"
My father said, "We will fight, won't let you die"

Won't bring back everything I ever was
Won't bring back everything I ever was
Won't bring back everything I ever was

Won't bring back everything I ever was

Won't bring back everything I ever was

Won't bring back everything I ever was

Won't bring back everything I ever was

Won't bring back
