I'm looking like I'm falling It's evident to see Walking through the darkest times of my life
And I know all I ever wanted was to gain my confidence There's no one left I can trust anymore

Understand, understand, understand
And she said, "Won't you stay with me and be
yourself, be yourself?"
And she said, "Won't you stay with me and be
yourself, be yourself?"

I wasted all of my time on nothing that is real All that they have taken from me has brought me to my knees
All I ever wanted was to lower my defense
She whispers that she loves me and I just don't know why

Understand, understand, understand
And she said, "Won't you stay with me and be
yourself, be yourself?"
And she said, "Won't you stay with me and be
yourself, be yourself?"

Stay with me, be yourself, my love
My love, my love, my love, my love
My love, my love, my love, my love

And she said, "Won't you stay with me and be
yourself, be yourself?"
And she said, "Won't you stay with me and be
yourself, be yourself?"
My love, my love, my love, my love
