The plan was to sweep the world off its feet so you sweep the garage for the neighbours to see the plan was to set the world on its ear and I bet you don't know why you're here

Who knew
that avenue was bound for happy town happy town
happy now
happy town

Actors, authors, artists and thieves have afternoon parties where nobody heaves former strippers and junkies and men of the cloth and we all fell in line and got lost

happy town
happy town
happy town

and I'm willing to bet you don't last a year the plan was to set the world on fire but it rains every day on the liar

In happy town
happy town
