Hoist your body into the laboratory Drawing lightning from the skies I've got a hundred different parts From a hundred different guys

And you'll live

The siren the siren the siren she told me The siren the siren the siren she told me The siren the siren the siren she told me so

And you'll live See your body tremble It ain't no surprise I tell you that I love you Then I look you in the eyes

And you'll live

The siren the siren the siren she told me The siren the siren the siren she told me The siren the siren the siren she told me so
