Nothing new about this song its ok, you can say it Nothing great I don't care, it's ok it you play it
So they say you should take note what I say, its no joke Mindless morons everyday watch you at your work and play

You're on the camera and now you're seen You're on the camera you done one little thing
You hear the sirens as they draw near
And then the next thing that you hear

Freeze right there then turn around
Lay your weapons on the ground
Assume the position You're under arrest
Assume the position Are you gonna confess

While they watched they took note, in the database you're wrote
They remember all your years and know all your fears Then they use those things they know when you were an average joe Fins yourself down in court, its no lie, the judge says one to life
You're on the camera and now
you're seen
You're on the camera you done one little
thing
You hear the sirens as they draw near

Freeze right there then turn around
Lay your weapons on the ground
Assume the position You're under arrest
Assume the position Are you gonna confess There are cameras everywhere so my brother you take care Or they'll come and chase you down run you right into the ground Throw you in a little cage spending time to cap your rage

Screen of truth its no lie and theyÃfÂçâ, -Ã™ ll watch you til you die
