Took too much medicine in Shanghai
Slept through the capture of Saddam
Dice and eyes dice by drunk candlelight
Thriving on the other side of the dateline
This will only be the onceâ€¦

This is where the moment gained the meaning
Doing the Paris thing with text messaging
Henghan Lu may be my last move
Time zones briefly heal all wounds

I always feel first for the ground
But these towers make another case
And now I can't separate from this

I always feel first for the ground
But these towers make another sound
And now I can't step away from this

So many walks back home
All the crashing reflection
Life: relive a few high nights

Goodbye from a few miles away
For the last time
"the last time of today"

Each year is more a murder
But I'm not here alone
