SATURDAY MORNING

Come on quick we still have time
To lose ourselves in our state of mind Let's leave this place before we stand here all alone
And the music's out and we've got no place else to go Some say that people revolve Let's not get stuck on a carousel-ride while desperately trying to get off Let's leave this place before we stand
here all alone
And the music's out and we've got no place we can go
'cause nothing really happens here
The people are just like anywhere else They seem to know it all, they see so far away
I just can't seem to concentrate
Come on quick we still have time
To lose ourselves in our state of mind
Let's get out of this place before we stand here all alone And the music's out and we've got no place else to go
'cause nothing really happens here
The people are just like anywhere else
They seem to know it all, they seem
so far away
I just can't concentrate
