With this mouth of mine I can take my time
It could be so right but it could take all night
So take this mouth of mine and fix your gaze inside
This could change your mind
This could change your life
With my back against the wall
I'm loving it all, loving it all
It's all I ever wanted
And I'm getting it all, getting it all
With my back against the wall
Know this is all I ever wanted
And I'm getting it all, getting it all
With this mouth of mine as your faithful guide
If you let me take my time I will make it so right
We had the voice and the message all along
I'm not scared
This is the voice and the message
