Are you thinking what Iâ'm thinking?
The air in our lungs will stop us from sinking
So gasp for air one last time
And hold your breath for the rest of the night

Took a left on my ambition
To take a chance at what Iâ'm missing
I stand still as the tide shifts
Being swept away, being swept away
I lost track of time
Now I can't find that frame of mind
I stand still as the tide shifts
Being swept away, being swept away

Iâ've walked for days with no signs of saving
My lips are cracked and dry
And there's nothing to burn for a signal fire
Are you thinking what Iâ'm thinking?
The air in our lungs will stop us from sinking
So gasp for air one last time
And hold your breath for the rest of the night
Took a left on my ambition
To take a chance at what Iâ'm missing
I stand still as the tide shifts
Being swept away, being swept away
I lost track of time
Now I can't find that frame of mind
I stand still as the tide shifts
Being swept away, being swept away

We are sinking, we are sinking
I walked for days
Drifting away
I walked for days

Took a left on my ambition
To take a chance at what Iâ'm missing
I stand still as the tide shifts
Being swept away, being swept away
I lost track of time
Now I can't find that frame of mind
I stand still as the tide shifts

Being swept away, being swept away
