

Real Life "Exploding Bullets"

Stand close to me my little friend
It's so hard to see let's not pretend
There's danger in the night
For you and me
There's men with armalite
Who kill for free

Sirens wailing and I am waiting
For my exploding bullets

Speak so softly now if you speak at all
I think I'm ready now I hear a call

Sirens wailing and I am waiting
For my exploding bullets

But wait a minute
With a fluttering heart
I wait for the men with minds
Like steel traps
Softly singing in time
We've got to get out of here
But listen to the sirens
They haven't been used since the war
But this is the war

It's never too late
