

The Rolling Stones

"Mick Jagger's And John Lennon's Introduction Of The Dirty Mac"

Visit "Mick Jagger's And John Lennon's Introduction Of The Dirty Mac" on MotoLyrics.com

(JL - John Lennon, MJ - Mick Jagger)

MJ : Winston, welcome to the show.

JL : Michael, it's a pleasure to be here

MJ : it's really nice to have you john. You know..

I've admired your work so long and.. haven't been able to get together with you so much as I Wanted...

JL : it's not been my fault, michael..

MJ :(ahh!) Do you remember the old place off broadway?

JL : Oh.. those are the days, I wanna hold you man. I remember that. I wanna hold you man..

MJ : John, I wanna talk to you about your new group, the Dirty Mac, that you got together for tonight's show.
Comprised of your self..

JL : My self, that's Winston Leg-Thigh, ypu know, and we got Mitch Mitchell from the jimi Hendrix Experience..

MJ : Are you really experienced?

JL : Oh very very. You've read My file. And we've got eric clapton from the cream, the late great Cream, michael.

MJ : Cream, fantastic.

JL : And we've got Keith Richards, your own soul brother

MJ : Dirty

JL : Great

JL : I'd Like to give you this, mike..

MJ : Thanks you John

JL : ...on behalf of the British public.

MJ : You are blues, john.. You are blues, john.. Yer Blues, john.

