Never noticed until now
How the morning birds song brings in the new day
Never noticed until now
Did those bells ring out that tune before the day

And I recall your mysterious eyes
Night falls and they come alive

Did I tell you as the world turns
You leave me standing still
Did I sing it out loud,
If I didn't, you know I will
For it's just one of the many things I know
Yeah it's just one of the many things I know
As I learn about you

There you go picking stars
One for you and one for me
Bring me all, the colours that you see
How do I let you know your just like me

And I recall your mysterious eyes
Just when I thought my heart embers had died

Did I tell you as the world turns
You leave me standing still
And I sing it out loud,
If I didn't you know I will
For it's just one of the many things I know
Yeah it's just one of the many things I know
As I learn about you
Ohh

Never noticed before now
Yeah you and me, can spin it all around
I have no doubt

Did I tell you
You're my first waking thought
Did I tell you you got me day dreaming
You're the last thing I see as I lay my head to sleep

You're the last thing I see as I lay my head to sleep
Yeah that's just one of the many things I know
Yeah that's just one of the many things I know
Yeah that's just one of the many things I know
As I learn about you, As I learn about you
