The night is filled with questions
The darkness takes its toll
Why did we take love for granted?
How could we lose control?

And I wonder as I lie here
Not knowing where you are
Was it as hard to be together
As it is to be apart?

Was goodbye the answer?
I'm not sure anymore
I just might trade the way it is
For the way it was before

And I still can't help but wonder
Is it as lonesome where you are
Was it as hard to be together
As it is to be apart?

It hurt too much to just keep holding on
But I know I've never spent a night this long
And I swear it seems that letting go
May leave a deeper scar

Was it as hard to be together
As it is to be apart?

Well it hurt too much to just keep holding on
But I know I've never spent a night this long
And I swear it seems that letting go
May leave a deeper scar

Was it as hard to be together
As it is to be apart?
Was it as hard to be together
As it is to be apart?
