Like the river that runs to the sea
The oceans speak of Your love for me
It's wider than I can imagine and I don't have to ever be afraid
'Cause nothing in the universe could take this love
away

If I were to fly on the wings of the sunrise
Settle on the farthest side of the sea
If I go up to the heavens where You are there
If I make my bed in the depths You're there

If I were to count every thought that You think of me
They would be more than the sand on the shore
When I'm awake You see what I'm thinking
And when I'm asleep You're watching

Like the river that runs to the sea
The oceans speak of Your love for me
It's deeper than I can imagine
And higher than the sky is Your love for me

Like the river that runs to the sea
The sky it speaks of Your love for me Wider than I can imagine and I don't have to ever be
'Cause nothing in the universe could take this love

If I were to walk through the deepest valley
If I were to hide my face in shame
Even there You see what I'm thinking
I can't get away from You

Like the river that runs to the sea
The oceans speak of Your love for me
It's deeper than I can imagine
And higher than the sky is Your love for me

Like the river that runs to the sea
The sky it speaks of Your love for me
It's wider than I can imagine and I don't have to ever be

'Cause nothing in the universe could take this love

If I were to fly, if I were to go
If I were to ride on the wings of the dawn
If I were to run, if I were to hide
Even there you know my heart, Lord You know my mind

Like the river that runs to the sea
The oceans speak of Your love for me
It's deeper than I can imagine
I don't have to ever be afraid

Like the river that runs to the sea
The sky it speaks of Your love for me
It's wider than I can imagine and I don't have to ever be
'Cause nothing in the universe could take this love
Could take this love away, could take this love away
Could take this love away

Like the river, like the river that runs to the sea
It speaks of Your love for me
And nothing could take this love away
And nothing, nothing
Nothing in the universe could take this love away
