What to do with all this time I have been given all the opportunities?
I want to feel all I can start all over pack my belongings and get on a train go somewhere else I want to see all

But life isn't short at all I'll get back on my feet if I fall
If I start looking the world isn't small Life isn't short at all

The skies have shapes of strange objects and animals
The sound of the ice melting on the first day of spring A pair of brand new red shoes soaking in the rain I'm perfectly drunk and calm
I want to be right here

'Cause life isn't short at all!

I have lived for 13 000 days
All the people I've meet on my way
All the billions moments I've felt joy
Not to mention all the times I've fallen in love
