This heart was a bomb that you set on fire
I laid it to rest on a funeral pyre
I said goodbye yeah, words were said
I tried to revive it but my heart was already dead

Place these electrodes on my chest
You've got to fix me cause you made this mess
Stitch up my gashes and put me to sleep
Heal these wounds that are far too deep

This life was a lie but you figured it out
What gave it away, what made you doubt?
I tried to conceal it inside of me
But you pierced too deep and I came clean

You've got me drowning and I like it
Youve got me drowning and I like it
